

The Stewardship Development Center

ROLAND | CRISS

Mission, Purpose and Goals

The Stewardship Development Center (“SDC”) seeks to build a fiduciary community committed to excelling in the fiduciary role, leading through stewardship principles, and exemplifying these tenets through real-world practices.

The SDC lives out its mission. Ten percent of the revenue generated through the SDC’s programming is donated to select non-profit organizations that engender the spirit of stewardship central to SDC’s purpose.

Key Statements

The fiduciary role is one of many functions a leader must manage in today’s organizations. The SDC’s clear-cut solutions and pragmatic processes help leaders quickly translate fiduciary jargon into actionable procedures that ensure fiduciary safety for their stakeholders.

The SDC identifies the most vital fiduciary issues, laws and concepts – and shares straightforward applications for implementing fiduciary best practices.

Through interactive, content-rich training sessions, the SDC works with members of boards of directors, key executives, and managers to generate a clear understanding of key fiduciary concepts and accountabilities, explain the role of related tools, and develop tactical skills required for fiduciary success.

Each customized SDC session incorporates:

1. a discussion of the relevance of key business issues to fiduciary leadership,
2. practical, tactical strategies for addressing key issues and minimizing any related risk, and
3. real-world examples demonstrating the benefits of these proven strategies.

Value Proposition

The SDC is the only on-site fiduciary training program that is dedicated to raising the competency and safety of people who are legally responsible for managing assets that belong to other people.

For more than a decade, the SDC’s trainers have blazed the trail of fiduciary standards, pioneering some of the very practices and certification systems that are preferred by leading fiduciary executive teams today.

The lessons learned at the Stewardship Development Center will build the skills and confidence needed to translate concepts into effective action and strengthen the safety of stakeholders' assets.

Training that Works

The SDC offers training courses that are specifically designed to sharpen the skills of boards of directors, trustees, investment committees, and executives for finance and human resources that oversee pensions and foundations.

To learn the details about courses and schedules offered by the SDC, ask for our course descriptions or view them online at our website.

The Stewardship Development Center

Phone: (800) 440-3457

Fax: (817) 861-0568

E-mail: admin@rolandcriss.com

www.rolandcriss.com